VitalSigns[®]

WELCOME TO VITAL SIGNS

COMMUNITY FOUNDATION OF NOVA SCOTIA

Vital Signs® is a community checkup conducted by community foundations across Canada, measuring the vitality of our communities and identifying significant trends in a range of areas critical to quality of life.

Vital Signs® is coordinated nationally by Community Foundations of Canada, with special thanks to the Toronto Foundation for developing and sharing the Vital Signs® concept. For more information visit: www.communityfoundations.ca/initiatives/vital-signs/

This report was coordinated by the Community Foundation of Nova Scotia (CFNS), an action centre for philanthropy. CFNS provides knowledge and support for communities, charities, and citizens to realize their potential.

THROUGH OUR WORK, WE AIM TO INSPIRE NOVA SCOTIANS TO GATHER, GIVE, AND GROW.

Gather:

We act as a convener and facilitator, bringing people and communities together in many different and exciting ways, such as our annual Inspired Conversations Series, various funds, Vital Signs® initiatives, and much more. We work with private donors, businesses, communities, and charitable organizations to build the financial and social capital our communities need, both today and tomorrow.

Give:

We support more than 80 funds that together support people, projects, and progress in communities across the province. We promote charitable giving and facilitate effective philanthropy for strategic impact on the issues and causes that matter to our communities.

Grow:

We build the financial assets that make things possible. We pool gifts, large and small, for greater growth to provide a sustainable source of funding for charities, scholarships, and grants to other community projects.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR COMMUNITY CHAMPIONS

The Strait Region Society for Children, Youth, and Families (SRSCYF) is a concerned citizen roundtable and advocacy group focused on the healthy growth, development, and welfare of children, youth, and families in Antigonish, Guysborough, Inverness, and Richmond Counties. Under a mandate from the Department of Community Services, SRSCYF serves as a Child Welfare Board, providing feedback on the changing factors that influence well-being and suggesting ways to improve.

The Mission of SRSCYF advocates for action in the following five areas:

- Fostering a Supportive Community Environment that understands that the personal actions of all community members contribute to the growth and development of healthy children, youth, and families.
- Celebrate, Connect and Strengthen existing community actions and services to ensure that the important work already being done to improve the lives of children, youth, and families continues.

• Develop Personal Skills

through intentional and deliberate development of all community members through learning opportunities, experiences and relationships that empower children, youth, and families to grow and develop.

• Reorient Services

by advocating and promoting coordination of resources and services available to children, youth, and families and increasing collaboration and engagement amongst families, service providers, and community resources.

• Advocate for Public Policy that supports and enables/empowers communities to support the healthy growth and development of children, youth, and families in all areas (determinants of health) that directly impact the ability to “live full and abundant lives”.

The essential and reciprocal relationship of the healthy growth and development of children, youth, and families and of sustainable, resilient, and thriving communities require a shared understanding of the challenges our communities must address. To facilitate this shared understanding, we partnered with the Community Foundation of Nova Scotia to leverage their expertise and experience in conducting a Vital Signs® report to take the pulse of our communities and support for children, youth, and families.

Thank you to all those who attended the community conversations and supported the Vital Signs® project with time, information, and financial resources.

We hope that this report serves as an “At A Glance” information source to stimulate vital conversations among community members, support the important work that is being done, and reinforce efforts and investments needed to ensure all children, youth, and families not only survive but THRIVE in our Strait Region communities.

- Strait Region Society for Children, Youth, and Families.

MI'KMAW COMMUNITIES

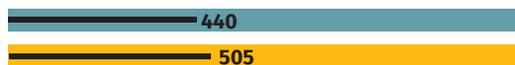

There are three Mi'kmaw communities in the Strait Region: Paq'tnkek Mi'kmaw Nation, Potlotek First Nation, and We'koqma'q First Nation. POPULATION DECLINE

Canada Nova Scotia Antigonish Guysborough Inverness Richmond

Between 2011 and 2016, the population of the Strait Region declined.

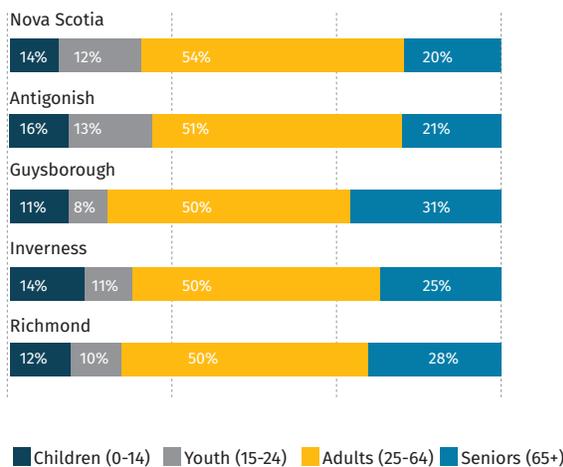

The provincial population remained about the same, while the national population increased by 5% over the same period. Changes in population affect people of all ages from school closures to employment opportunities.

AGE OF POPULATION

An aging population and youth outmigration are pressing concerns facing rural parts of Nova Scotia and the Strait Region echoes that reality.

All four counties have higher percentages of seniors than the provincial rate and three of the four counties show lower percentages of youth than the province as a whole.

MOVING TO THE STRAIT REGION

With the overall population of the Strait Region in decline, having people move to our communities is important for maintaining and growing our population. Between May 2015 and May 2016, 2,165 people moved to the Strait Region from within Nova Scotia, across Canada, and around the world.

PERSONAL ASSETS AND ASSET-BASED COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

LIONS QUEST CANADA – THE CENTRE FOR POSITIVE YOUTH DEVELOPMENT IS PLEASED TO CONGRATULATE THE STRAIT REGION SOCIETY FOR CHILDREN, YOUTH, AND FAMILIES ON THE STRAIT REGION VITAL SIGNS® REPORT. WHEN WE TAKE CARE OF OUR COMMUNITIES, WE TAKE CARE OF OUR KIDS, AND WHEN WE TAKE CARE OF OUR KIDS, WE TAKE CARE OF OUR COMMUNITIES.

FAMILIES:

Healthy families are foundational to young people's growth, learning, and well-being. Family relationships build strong social and emotional strengths that children and youth use throughout their lives. But not all families are able to provide the foundational supports for growth and development nor should they be expected to do it alone.

SCHOOLS:

Relationship-centred schools that are safe, caring, and highly engaging not only contribute to students' academic success, but also to their social and emotional well-being. School educators, support staff, service partners, and community members assist in expanding awareness of issues, and intentionally devote time to establishing the essential building blocks of development for children, youth and families.

COMMUNITY ASSETS:

Asset-Based Community Development (ABCD) is an approach that recognizes the strengths, gifts, talents, and resources of individuals and communities, and helps communities to mobilize these for sustainable growth and development. We say it takes a village to raise a child, so villagers need to be equipped with their own assets - especially formal and informal associations (human, social, financial, natural, and physical) – to be successful in helping children and youth thrive.

Lions Quest Canada – The Centre for Positive Youth Development has supported schools and communities for over 30 years to promote collaboration and ensure everyone understands the critical roles families, schools, and communities play in developing the experiences, opportunities, skills, and qualities that help children and youth make responsible and healthy choices. Established in 1988 in Cambridge, Ontario, Lions Quest is dedicated to providing leadership knowledge and resources to develop healthy, capable young people of strong character by producing and disseminating innovative, effective, and well-researched programs, products, training, and services for youth, parents, educators, and community leaders. For more information visit: lionsquest.ca

COMMUNITY AND BELONGING

FOSTERING A SENSE OF COMMUNITY FOR ALL.

FROM CORPORATIONS TO CREDIT UNIONS, SERVICE CLUBS TO SOCIAL JUSTICE ORGANIZATIONS, PEOPLE LIVING IN THE STRAIT REGION ARE WELCOMING, ACTIVE, AND GENEROUS IN FOSTERING A SENSE OF COMMUNITY FOR ALL.

A thriving community makes sure that everyone feels at home, recognizes the strengths, gifts, and resources of its people, and helps communities to mobilize and build on these for sustainable development. The Strait Region is fortunate to have community members readily willing to lead and invest their time in formal and informal associations that mobilize community assets, strengthen social relationships, and form local initiatives to support and serve children, youth, and families.

SENSE OF COMMUNITY BELONGING

Belonging is a human need, just like food, water, or shelter. These important relationships not only include family and personal friends, but also the wider groups and communities we belong to.

The rate of community belonging is higher in the Strait Region (part of the Eastern Health Region) than in Nova Scotia or Canada as a whole.

IMMIGRANT SUPPORT

The Antigonish Guysborough Immigrant Support Program (AGISP) is a free service provided through the Antigonish Women's Resource Centre and Sexual Assault Services Association and is funded by the Nova Scotia Office of Immigration. AGISP offers a variety of programs and services including support groups and housing assistance for newcomers. In 2018/2019, up to 140 community members accessed services through AGISP in person, by phone, or online.

L'ARCHE

Building relationships and understanding each other's gifts is all part of the process of ensuring that everyone truly belongs. L'Arche Antigonish has 5 homes (Covenant, Emmaus, Hope, Dixie, and Jubilee) and 1 supervised apartment for people with intellectual disabilities. L'Arche residents participate in the daily tasks of creating a home together: preparing meals, washing dishes, cleaning, taking responsibility for personal care, and managing individual finances. Together, residents learn about each other's uniqueness and differences and how these can enrich our lives together.

A MESSAGE FROM DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY SERVICES AND THE FEDERATION OF FOSTER FAMILIES OF NOVA SCOTIA

When children need guidance or a loving home, foster families are there to give them their kind, loving, and nurturing attention. When you open your home to a child in your community, you help them stay in their home community, in their school, and with their friends. Your care, attention, and time are all it takes to give a child a stronger future.

Right now, there are 28 foster families in the Strait Region – but more are needed. We're asking Nova Scotians from Inverness, Richmond, Antigonish, and Guysborough counties to be there for children in care.

Becoming a foster parent is one of the most rewarding things you can do. And we can help you do it. We're here to provide the training, resources and support you need. Open your heart. Open your home. You can do this.

ALTERNATIVE FAMILY CARE

Alternative Family Care helps prevent children from coming into the care of the province by providing financial assistance to extended family members and other caregivers to support children's needs. ECONOMY INCOME & EMPLOYMENT

THRIVING COMMUNITIES PROVIDE DIVERSE OPPORTUNITIES FOR PEOPLE TO WORK, CONNECT, AND GROW.

Having stable employment and income help people put down roots in a community, develop personally and professionally, find the time and resources to care for their health, and invest in their families and communities.

INDUSTRIES

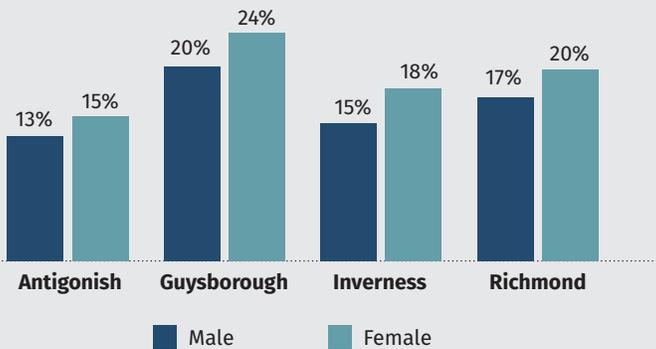

Work in the Strait Region is as diverse as the communities themselves! Some industries are more commonly associated with low pay and minimum wage (such as retail trade or agriculture) and have high concentrations of youth and part-time workers. Here are the top three employment industries in each county.

LOW INCOME & GENDER

Living on a low income is particularly prevalent among women. In all four counties, the low income rate is higher among women than men.

LOW INCOME RATE

Many residents of the Strait Region live on less than the median income of their counties. Statistics Canada uses a Low Income Measure – After Tax, which accounts for the financial needs of families and households of varying sizes.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE

While many sectors do a solid job of employing members of their communities, unemployment is a key issue facing the Strait Region. Inverness has the highest rates of unemployment in the region.

CHILD POVERTY

In order for children and youth to lead safe and empowered lives, it is important that they have the resources they need to succeed. Poverty is one of the leading causes of poor mental and physical health, making the reality of childhood poverty in the Strait Region a concerning one.

CHILDREN LIVING IN LOW-INCOME HOUSEHOLDS

LIVING WAGE VS. MINIMUM WAGE

A living wage is one that covers the actual costs of living and raising a family. This accounts for typical costs of living including shelter, childcare, and food.

In 2016, the Antigonish Poverty Reduction Coalition calculated that a living wage for two adults with two children living in Antigonish County was $17.30 an hour per adult in the household, assuming each parent works 35 hours a week for 52 weeks each year.

This is considerably higher than minimum wage in the province, which is $11.55 an hour for experienced workers and $11.05 an hour for inexperienced workers.

HOUSING

HOUSING IS A BASIC HUMAN RIGHT. HOWEVER, MANY PEOPLE IN THE STRAIT REGION CANNOT FIND AN AFFORDABLE, SAFE, COMFORTABLE PLACE TO LIVE AND SLEEP.

OWNERS AND RENTERS

Most people in the Strait Region own their own homes. In all four counties, rates of homeownership are higher and rates of renters are lower than the provincial rate.

RENTAL HOUSING

The Canadian Rental Housing Index uses supply and affordability data from the 2016 Census to measure the health of rental housing across Canada. This measure only accounts for monthly rent costs and availability of rental units, but in rural areas where public transportation options are limited, additional considerations should be given to the location of rental units. Of the 18 counties, how do Strait Region communities rank compared to the rest of the province?

RENTAL HOUSING COSTS

Of the four counties, it is most expensive to rent in Antigonish and least expensive to rent in Guysborough.

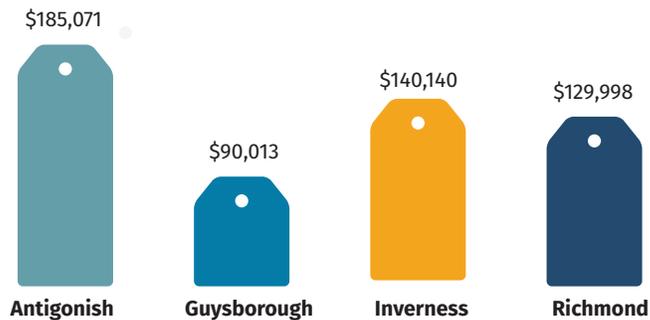

DID YOU KNOW?

Housing Nova Scotia offers assistance to low-income homeowners who need to make major repairs to their homes. In 2017, 1,530 low-income homeowners across the province received financial support to improve the safety and function of their houses.

AVERAGE PURCHASE PRICE OF A HOME

With rates of homeownership so high in all four counties, it's valuable to understand the affordability of homeownership in the region.

DID YOU KNOW?

Creating more affordable housing options is crucial. For example, the Antigonish Affordable Housing Society is a volunteer-run charity organization that has been working to bring affordable housing to Antigonish since 2014. They have created a multi-family complex with 14 apartments for Antigonish residents living on low-incomes.

There are programs available across the region that provide limited financial assistance to residents in emergency heating situations. EnergyAssist is a provincial program that links people with the assistance they need while the Antigonish Emergency Fuel Fund, for example, provides similar assistance to people in Antigonish County. In 2017 alone, 105 households were supported through the Antigonish Emergency Fuel Fund.

Rate of Unaffordable Housing by Housing Type

OWNERS AND RENTERS IN UNAFFORDABLE HOUSING

Renters in the region have the hardest time finding affordable housing. In all four counties, renters are almost five times more likely to be living in unaffordable housing than people who own their own homes.

WHILE HOUSING IS A KNOWN ISSUE IN THE REGION, THERE ARE NO RELIABLE ESTIMATES FOR THE NUMBER OF PEOPLE EXPERIENCING HOMELESSNESS IN THE STRAIT REGION.

SINGLE-PARENT HOUSEHOLDS

Finding affordable housing can be particularly challenging on one income. Between 2011 and 2016, the percentage of single-parent households in all four counties stayed the same or increased with women heading over 74% of single-parent households in every county of the Strait Region.

PUBLIC HOUSING

Public housing supports low-income earners in finding safe and affordable housing for families.

Public housing gives priority to survivors of family violence, those whose homes have been condemned, or those who need to live near a hospital.

PUBLIC HOUSING UNITS IN THE STRAIT REGION

SHELTERS

For some, affordability is only part of the challenge; safety is a concern as well.

The Transition House Association of Nova Scotia supports four shelters in the Strait Region that provide protection, safety, shelter, and basic necessities to women and children breaking away from family violence: Leaside Transition House, Naomi Society, Tearmann House, and We'koqma'q Family Healing Centre.

FOOD SECURITY AND HEALTHY EATING

Food security means having reliable access to sufficient quantities of affordable and healthy food. When people are food insecure, they are at a higher risk for serious growth and development, health, economic, and social problems, including learning difficulties, chronic disease, stress, depression, and social isolation.

The Food Action Research Centre, or FoodARC, has noted that despite being rich in food resources, Nova Scotia has the highest rate of food insecurity of all the Canadian provinces.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE CONSUMPTION

Fruits and vegetables are an important part of healthy eating, and reduce the risk of many diseases, including heart disease, high blood pressure, and some cancers.

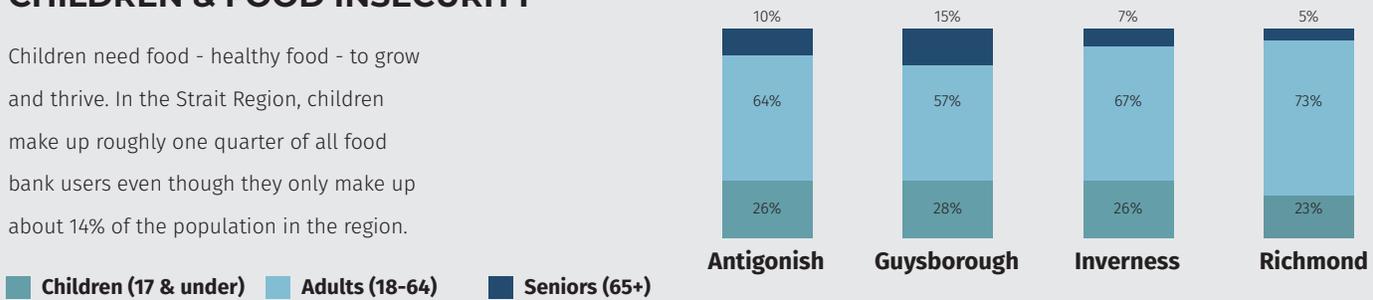

Percentage of population eating at least five servings of fruits and vegetables per day

CHILDREN & FOOD INSECURITY

Children need food - healthy food - to grow and thrive. In the Strait Region, children make up roughly one quarter of all food bank users even though they only make up about 14% of the population in the region.

Food Bank Use by Age Group

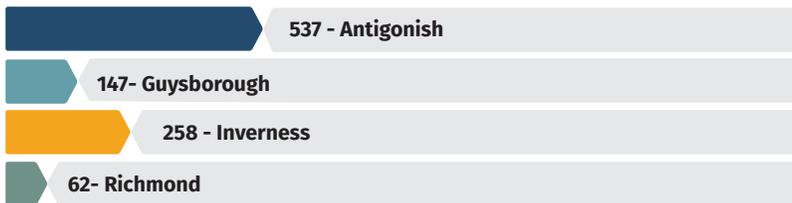

■ Children (17 & under) ■ Adults (18-64) ■ Seniors (65+)

FOOD BANKS

Between 2008 and 2016, food bank usage in Nova Scotia increased by 41%.

There are six food banks in the Strait Region that are supported by Feed Nova Scotia: Antigonish Community Food Bank, Guysborough & Area Food Bank Society, Isle Madame Food Bank, Port Hood Food Bank, Port Hawkesbury Food Bank Society, and St. Francis Xavier University Student Food Resource Centre. However, there are many other organizations in the region that offer emergency food support.

THE NATIONAL NUTRITIOUS FOOD BASKET

The National Nutritious Food Basket (NNFB) is a grocery list of approximately 60 food items that represent a healthy, balanced diet. Foods in the NNFB are minimally processed, easily found in grocery stores, and eaten by most Canadians in amounts that make up a balanced diet. The cost of the NNFB varies across the province, and is typically higher in rural areas than in urban centres.

SCHOOL FOOD PROGRAMS

When there's not enough food at home, schools can play an essential role by providing food to kids. Breakfast programs are offered by CSAP and SRCE schools; in the 2018-2019 school year, 95% of SRCE schools served breakfast 5 days per week, feeding 2,538 students each day.

DID YOU KNOW?

Rural households are especially vulnerable to food insecurity due to a lack of accessible or reliable transportation, which can prevent access to food.

Having breakfast at school helps children to perform better academically, have fewer office referrals, attend class and be on time, and participate and concentrate in class.

TRANSPORTATION & COMMUNICATION

Many of our communities are rural and remote and getting around can be a major obstacle. Some people in our region must travel outside their communities for everyday needs such as employment, going to school, buying groceries, seeing a doctor, or participating in recreational activities.

COMMUTING

People living in the Strait Region view transportation as a key issue in their communities. Commuting times vary across the region with Guysborough county facing the longest commute times with an average of 26 minutes.

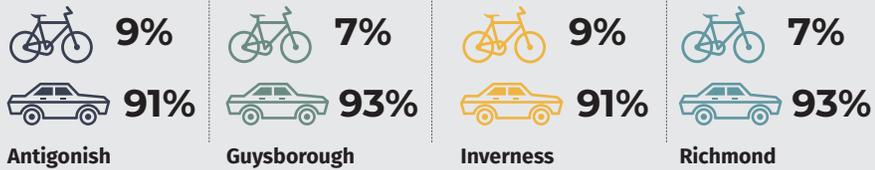

Average Commute Time to Work

19 minutes	26 minutes	19 minutes	23 minutes
Antigonish	Guysborough	Inverness	Richmond

GETTING AROUND

In rural areas where essential services and amenities are farther apart, having access to transportation is essential. In the Strait Region, most people use cars to get to work.

Modes of Transport to Work

Automobile Transit, walking, or biking

TRANSPORTATION ALTERNATIVES

With median household incomes lower than the provincial rate in three of the four counties in the Strait Region, not everyone can afford to own a car. Lack of available and affordable transportation leads to missed employment opportunities, educational experiences, health appointments, social gatherings, and everyday activities.

SCHOOL BUS USE

School buses are valuable for a number of reasons. For families without a car, they are an essential means of transport to school. For the environment, having fewer cars on the road means reduced emissions.

SRCE School Bus Use 2018/2019

INTERNET

While transportation is used as a way to physically connect people, the Internet is also a means of connecting people for education, employment, searching for housing, finding a partner, and more. Relocation for families, particularly those who are self-employed, would be challenging in areas with poor Internet service.

	Canada	Antigonish	Guysborough	Inverness	Richmond
Avg. Download	41.2 Mbps	11.01 Mbps	3.45 Mbps	3.32 Mbps	15.54 Mbps
Avg. Upload	17.5 Mbps	4.24 Mbps	1.31 Mbps	0.86 Mbps	2.26 Mbps

Nationally, 7 in 10 Internet users say they would be unlikely to purchase a home in an area that didn't have high-speed Internet, making Internet speed an essential consideration for community growth. Poor Internet in rural areas places even greater pressures on already limited affordable housing options in densely populated towns and villages. The Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission has determined that all Canadians should have access to Internet speeds of at least 50 Mbps (megabits per second) for downloads and 10 Mbps for uploads.

DID YOU KNOW?

There are two community transit options in the Strait Region: Antigonish Community Transit (ACTS) and Strait Area Transit (SAT).

Medical appointments are a recurring theme among transit users. One ACTS user noted that "This changed my life. I couldn't attend medical appointments and was desperate. This service is amazing." Another community member is only able to travel to the Strait Richmond Hospital for dialysis appointments three times a week because of Strait Area Transit. Having affordable transportation alternatives is not a luxury, it's a necessity.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

A community's strength and resilience depend on the physical and mental health of the people who live, work, and play there. Research has found that health is impacted by social determinants such as income, education, shelter, food, sustainable resources, and equity.

The Strait Region is part of the Eastern Health Region of the Nova Scotia Health Authority (NSHA). Much of the data used to talk about health in the Strait Region comes from data accounting for the Eastern Health Region as a whole.

FAMILY PHYSICIANS

As of August 2019, 4,176 people of the Eastern Health Region aged 12 and over were without a family doctor. With a declining and aging population, the Strait Region needs to have health care support to attract new families and to support older adults.

DID YOU KNOW?

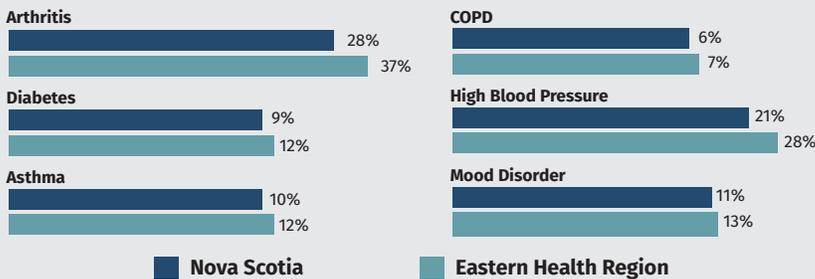

One of the strongest non-medical factors that affect health is income. In 2015, only 15% of low-income residents in the Strait Region reported good health, compared to 38% of high-income residents.

CHRONIC CONDITIONS

Healthy communities focus on quality of life. One of the biggest health challenges facing the Strait Region is the rate of chronic conditions. Chronic conditions require long-term care and treatment and can have a significant impact on a person's daily routines and quality of life. Family members are also influenced by the chronic health problems of a loved one with impacts on emotions, relationships, sleep and health, work and study, finances, social life, and time. When chronic care and support become the focus of the family instead of growth and development, we become absorbed with surviving not thriving.

Rates of Chronic Conditions

MENTAL HEALTH

Wellness is a combination of both physical and mental health. While the majority of Strait Region residents report very good or excellent mental health, 8% of residents report fair or poor mental health, which is higher than the national rate.

Self-Perceived Mental Health, Fair or Poor

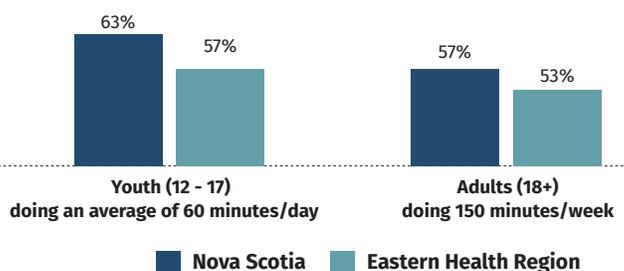

PHYSICAL ACTIVITY

Health is about more than just treating illness – it's also about maintaining wellness. Children need to be active every day to promote their healthy physical and mental growth and development.

Kids who establish healthy lifestyle patterns at a young age will carry those patterns and benefits with them for the rest of their lives. Rates of physical activity in the Strait Region are lower than the province as a whole.

Getting Enough Exercise

KIDSPORT

It is important to encourage children and youth to connect with others, be active, and discover new opportunities. Sports can be a positive outlet for youth to do this, but the cost of sports is often a major barrier. In the Strait Region, there are three chapters of KidSport, which provide confidential financial assistance for registration fees and equipment to kids aged 18 and under.

NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND WELLNESS

When children, youth, and families need support for their health, they turn to the health care system. In Nova Scotia, we have Public Health, which is specifically designed to promote and protect health and prevent disease and injuries so that we can all live healthier lives.

Everyone has a role to play in public health – working together to change the social and physical environments where we spend time, and to address root causes such as the social determinants of health and inequities in our society. Public Health helps our communities to better understand infectious diseases, vaccinations, healthy eating, tobacco and alcohol use, pregnancy and childhood development.

SUPPORT SPOTLIGHT

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

Thriving communities offer members of all ages abundant, affordable, and flexible opportunities to learn in a range of environments. Families, school communities, and community organizations share responsibility for the growth and development of all children and youth.

FAMILIES

A child's earliest experiences have the greatest impact on their development. From prenatal development to adulthood, parental and family support is vital to the growth and development of our community members. Children are part of families and therefore what impacts the family also impacts the child (e.g. poverty, unemployment, housing, stress, etc.).

DAY CARE

For many families, day care is a necessity. Day cares can positively impact children, youth, and their families by acting as caring, encouraging environments for young people to grow. There are 13 provincially licensed childcare centres in the Strait Region.

PRE-PRIMARY PROGRAM

In the Strait Region, there are currently 18 schools that offer the Pre-Primary Program at CSAP and SRCE schools. The Pre-Primary Program is a free program for four-year-olds in the province and is offered in the school setting, which helps children to transition into Primary the following year. Based on the experience of other jurisdictions, participation in school-based early learning programs is typically high, reaching children and families who might not otherwise be able to access other early learning and childcare programs.

NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION AND EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT

The Nova Scotia Department of Education and Early Childhood Development works to ensure that children in their early years have a positive start to school, that students benefit from a quality primary to 12 education, and that teachers, school boards, and community partners collaborate to increase overall student achievement and success.

Schools in our communities act as essential hubs. All SRCE and CSAP schools are members of SchoolsPlus/ÉcolesPlus, which brings a range of mental health services and other health programs together with mentoring, social work, homework support and justice services into schools where children, youth and families can easily access them.

Families can access SchoolsPlus either through a referral from the principal and school Program Planning Team, or from service providers, students, and families contacting their school's SchoolsPlus Facilitator. HOUSING

Advocate for affordable housing options in areas where people who do not own a car can get to work, school, and essential services for their families.

FOOD SECURITY AND HEALTHY EATING

Understand food insecurity by learning about the National Nutritious Food Basket, support and donate to your local food banks, and advocate for more transportation alternatives so people in rural areas can access healthy food.

TRANSPORTATION & COMMUNICATION

Support public transit options in our communities and demand widespread cell phone coverage and high speed Internet access especially in rural areas.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Engage in personal and family-focused regular physical activity, speak up and engage in efforts to recruit and retain family physicians for all community members, and call for better supports for families coping with chronic conditions.

A "village" of support is needed to ensure the success of all children, youth and families. Acknowledge, celebrate, and engage with parents/families, schools, and community to provide the foundation of growth and development for all.

THE PROCESS

LOCAL DATA

Vital Signs® reports employ a community-based research strategy in order to determine community priorities and highlight community strengths. Wherever possible, this report has drawn information from local data, such as strategies and action plans from municipalities and data from local business and non-profit organizations. The report also draws extensively from the most recently available data from national and provincial sources, such as Statistics Canada and the Government of Nova Scotia, to provide a high-level snapshot of community vitality on a wide variety of indicators. For additional information regarding information sources, please refer to CFNS's Vital Signs® Source Document located at cfns-fcne.ca/en/vitalsigns

LOCAL LEADERSHIP AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Vital Signs® is an evidence-based report that is used to measure community well-being, start conversations with local leaders, and identify trends to help communities act on priorities such as poverty, food insecurity, youth unemployment, and more. The goal of Vital Signs® is to offer a readable and engaging report that encourages dialogue and action from all segments of a community, including citizens, non-profit organizations, institutions, and political leaders.

The researchers connected with community members to seek their perspectives for this project and they supported the identification of priority areas, collected data, and provided final edits to the report. Representatives from the Strait Region Society for Children, Youth and Families and many community partners played a key role in providing high level recommendations and advice to ensure this report addressed the priorities and needs of the community, and were instrumental in achieving the community outreach and engagement goals of Vital Signs®.

CHALLENGES AND LIMITATIONS

The reader should keep in mind the following:

- Throughout the process, Strait Region community members identified issues they would like to see addressed in the report. Unfortunately, not all these issues are addressed in the report due to data availability and space limitations.
- This report uses secondary data from multiple sources over various years. Data was collected using multiple survey methods for many geographic catchment areas. The researchers made every effort to ensure that the data used in the report was comparable, and to be explicit regarding the parameters of the data.
- In some instances, data was unavailable for one or more of the four counties in the Strait Region, but it was felt that the available data was still valuable. The researchers were explicit about when a county was not included.
